

Leonard Bus Sales' Senior Management Team Announced

Deposit, NY (August 2009) – Leonard Bus Sales, Inc. is pleased to announce their new senior management team. Senior Management Team members are:

Frank Continetti, General Manager: Mr. Continetti will oversee the day to day operations of our company and be responsible for the development and successful implementation of our short, medium and long range plans. Prior to his arrival at Leonard Bus Sales in 2007, Frank held senior management positions in two different industries: automotive, as Dealer Principal and trust banking, as President & CEO. He brings more than 20 years of successful managerial experience and knowledge to this position of General Manager.

Glenna Novak, Controller and HR Director: Mrs. Novak will be responsible for the oversight of all Accounting and Human Resources functions at LBS. Glenna has been with Leonard Bus Sales for 27 years.

Mark Ingham, Service Director: Mr. Ingham will be responsible for the oversight of all four service facilities and the warranty function and is charged with the development of consistent "best practices" for service, new bus prep and warranty. Mark has been with Leonard Bus Sales for 12 years.

Bill Harvey, Sales Manager: Mr. Harvey will be responsible for the oversight of the new bus sales functions. Bill has been with Leonard Bus Sales for 5 years.

Jim Hogan, Parts Manager: Mr. Hogan will be responsible for the oversight of all parts functions and personnel. Jim has been with Leonard Bus Sales for 21 years.

Marv Wood, Training Director: Mr. Wood will be responsible for all internal and external training functions. He will continue in his role as our hybrid expert as well as take a lead role on special service projects. Marv has been with Leonard Bus Sales since 2007.
